WORKING WITH TREMCO

Tremco Illbruck, one of the leading industrial adhesive manufacturers, selected Best Makina as partner for its test production at its factory in Traunstein, Germany. Tremco Illbruck will be testing primary and secondary sealants for the insulated glass industry before making them commercial. For this reason, Tremco Illbruck invested in an automatic coupling press machine with automatic gas filling, automatic desiccant filling machine, PIB extruder, two component hydraulic extruder and auxiliary equipment. The project started in the first months of 2017, and technical team members co-operated together to design the custom machinery appropriate to EU norms and Tremco Illbruck warehouse. Tremco Illbruck technical team visited Best Makina in Türkiye for preliminary acceptance and training. All machines were delivered and installed with the supervision of Best Makina's technical team in September 2018.

Today's IG market is as demanding as every other sector of the glass industry, and being able to respond to the request for custom-built machinery is never easy. Best Makina gives us an idea of how it does this with a recent collaboration with Tremco.
